

WILL TAKE UP SOLDIER BONUS CONSIDERATION

Congress to Discuss in Connection with Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Congressional leaders, irrespective of party, are proceeding with caution in their consideration of tax revision and the related question of a soldiers' bonus. Among the many conflicting opinions, only one stands out—that precipitate action on either proposal should be avoided. In the opinion of practically all of the leaders, Republican Democratic and Republican-Progressive, Secretary Mellon's announcement that the National tax bill can be reduced by approximately $323,000,000 has stirred such a general demand for tax reduction that congress will be obliged to enact some sort of revenue revision measure. But a tax cut at the expense of the soldiers' bonus is certain to meet with determined opposition in both houses.

Suggestions already are being put forward that neither of the two pieces of legislation need be sacrificed at the expense of the other. Pointing out that the bonus bill voted by President Harding called for an expenditure of only $80,000,000 the first year, proponents of a bonus argue that it is possible to enact that measure and at the same time make a very substantial cut in the tax burden.

Await Two Events
Before committing themselves definitely on either subject most leaders at the capitol await two events—a definite determination of how the senate and house are going to line up on the organization votes the delivery of the first annual message of President Coolidge. These two things must of necessity be important factors in the final legislative plans, certainly so far as the Republican organization is concerned.

There is an impression at the capitol that the president will devote a considerable portion of his message to tax reduction and his recommendations are expected to follow in general the plan recently outlined by Secretary Mellon. The executive's position with respect to the bonus remains a subject of speculation.

Some white house callers have gained the impression that his attitude is not unlike that of President Harding but even they are uncertain whether he will present any recommendation as to soldier's compensation.

The chief concern of administration leaders with respect to tax legislation is as to what sort of a bill could be put thru congress. Most of them are inclined to favor the Mellon program but they are not at all certain that it can be translated into legislation.

Definite Programs
The progressives among the Republicans in both the house and senate are planning definite programs of their own and the Democrats are known to favor some revision plans which are not included in the Mellon proposal.

The uncertainty as to what kind of a measure might eventually come out of the legislative hopper caused a number of Republican leaders to suggest before Mr. Mellon made his announcement that it probably would be unwise to open up the tax subject at the coming session. Some of them still are in talk of an attempt to bring the conservatives in the Republican and Democratic ranks together on a tax program.

While bonus advocates claim a safe majority in both the house and the senate they are not overlooking the certainty of strong opposition, particularly in the senate.

Opponents in that body already are lining up for a fight and they forecast much more determined opposition than there was at the last session at the time when it was generally understood that President Harding would veto the measure.

HOUSE ORGANIZATION PRINCIPAL QUESTION AMONG ALL PARTIES

Graham and Longworth Fight for Republican Leadership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Representative Graham of Illinois, after a conference today with president Coolidge announced he would remain in the race for Republican leader of the house. He said he had gained the impression that the president would pursue a hands-off policy in the contest which has developed between him and Representative Longworth of Ohio.

Mr. Graham explained he had gone to the white house to discuss the general political situation with Mr. Coolidge and his secretary, C. Bascom Sless, for many years a member of the house. While the president desires harmony, said Mr. Graham, he expressed no preference as to candidates for leadership but indicated it was a question to be settled by Republican members of the house.

During his talk with the president, Mr. Graham expressed the view that continuation of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts as speaker, with Mr. Longworth, an Ohioan, as Republican leader, would not prove popular with the country at large.

Pro's Take No Stand
House members identified with the Progressive Republican bloc, reiterated their intention of taking no stand collectively on the leadership question, but Representative Nelson of Wisconsin, one of the spokesmen for the group, declared that in all probability support would be given Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, for speaker. Progressives will attend the conference to make known their demands for representation on committees.

He said, but will not bind themselves to the decisions reached as to candidates for speaker and floor leader. Republican leaders generally were inclined today to the view that the Democrats should be given nine seats on committees having a total membership of twenty-one, as against six during the last congress.

Democratic leaders have announced they will insist on the twelve and nine ratio, at the same time demanding eleven members on the ways and means committee, which has a membership of 25, five members on the rules committee and fifteen places on the appropriations committee with a membership of 35.

EXTENSIVE BUILDING HELPS UNEMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Building operations alone will stave off any unemployment problem for at least a year and a half, S. W. Straus, New York investment banker, told President Coolidge today in course of a conference with the president.

"There is a potential need for $80,000,000 worth of new building in the United States today," Mr. Straus declared.

"This need exists notwithstanding the fact that building operations this year are 25 per cent ahead of 1922. Last year the nation's new volume of business was $4,000,000,000. This year it will be $5,000,000,000, so that it would require a year and one half of the most intensive operation to make up the present shortage."

"With these large activities there is no likelihood of the United States having to face any unemployment problems at least in the immediate future."

BIG APPROPRIATION ASKED FOR WATERAY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 22.—The expenditure of $90,000,000 within the next five years on improvement of the Mississippi and its major tributaries—the Ohio, Illinois and Missouri rivers—without reduction of appropriations for other inland waterway projects was proposed by Congressman Cleveland A. Newton, of Missouri, at the meeting here today of the Mississippi Valley association.

Speakers who followed Mr. Newton gave their endorsement of his plan and tonight it appeared that the five year budget proposition, which the Missouri representative said would be embodied in a bill to be introduced at the approaching session of congress, would receive the official endorsement of the association as its major program.

CLAIMS DEATH OF SON CAUSED BY EXPOSURE

Chicago, Nov. 22.—A post-mortem examination of William Downes conducted after his father charged his death had been caused by malpractice and an overdose of anti-toxin, disclosed today according to Dr. Norman Zolla, conducting the investigation that death was due to diphtheria. The father declared the boy had been taken from his home at night by health officers and exposed to a twenty mile ride in an automobile in taking him to the isolation hospital where he died.

NOTED BISHOP DIES SUDDENLY IN SPRINGFIELD

Death Comes to Rev. Sherwood of Episcopal Church

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22.—Right Rev. Granville Hudson Sherwood, bishop of the Springfield diocese of the Episcopal Church died suddenly at 5 o'clock this afternoon at his residence in this city. The bishop apparently had been in good health up until a short time before his death. Death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

Bishop Sherwood complained to his wife a short time before his noon day meal. He felt better a short time later but shortly after eating lunch with his wife he again complained of severe pain. A physician was summoned but the bishop lapsed into unconsciousness and died a short time later.

Bishop Sherwood had served as head of the Springfield diocese since 1917. He was born at Elgin, Ill., received his earlier education at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.; Trinity College, New Haven, Conn. and Western Theological Seminary, Chicago, where he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He was ordained to the ministry in 1903.

Bishop Sherwood's first charge was at Streator, Illinois, and then went to Trinity church, Rock Island, where he remained until elected bishop at a special convention in this city in December 1916.

Bishop Sherwood succeeded Bishop Edward Osborne, retired now residing in South San Diego, Calif., as diocesan head of Springfield.

PACKERS WILL OPEN BOOKS IF DIRECTLY ORDERED BY COURT

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(A. P.)—Only by direct court order will representatives of the United States department of agriculture be permitted to examine the books and accounts of Swift & Company President L. F. Swift stated today in a letter sent Secretary Wallace in answer to his request to place accountants in offices of that company and of Wilson and Co., and Cudahy Packing company.

The company took the stand he said, that the packers and stock yards act under which the demand was made provides full authority to investigate specific cases of unfair and discriminatory practices, but it does not give authority to interfere in the absence of specific charges.

President Swift also pointed out that such accounts after having these privileges of examination, would be of such value to competitors that they might be hired away from the government for trade secrets which they had learned.

SAY WAGE AGREEMENT IN VIOLATION OF LAW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—An unique case was reached for argument in the supreme court today. It was an appeal by the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers, the National Window Glass Workers and others to have set aside the decision of the federal district court for Northern Ohio holding them guilty of having, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, entered into an agreement relating to wages and working agreements which had the effect of restraining interstate commerce.

For the first time in the history of the Sherman laws, John W. Davis, counsel for the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers stated, the courts were asked to hold an agreement between employers and employees on wages and working conditions a violation of law.

WABASH ENGINEER DIES FROM INJURIES

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 22.—George Miller, engineer of a work train on the Wabash railway which collided November 12 with a local freight train near Attica, Ind., died this evening from his injuries. His death made the third fatality resulting from the wreck. His home is in Peru, Ind., and his body will be sent there tomorrow.

HIGH SCHOOL EDITORS IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 22.—Two hundred fifty high school editors and reporters met here tonight in the first session of the annual conference of the Illinois High School Press association. This is the third annual meeting of the association whose membership is composed of newspapers, magazines and year books published in high schools of the state.

Rum Row Personnel Undergoes Change

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Nov. 22.—(AP)—The law and the ever clutching hands of the deep have served in a year to work great changes in the personnel of the "Marine Liquor Transportation association, Ltd.," the unregistered organization of Highlanders who dare the risks of running intoxicants from the ships that come and go on rum row.

Liquor running from the row has been started again. With the approach of the holidays there are five ships, two steamers and three schooners anchored out there. Last January there were fifteen at one time and small smuggler boats swarmed about them.

The smuggler boats are not so many now and there are left but few of those lawless spirits who carried on the extensive smuggling of last January when rum row was first established off Ambrose Light ship. More than a dozen are gone. Six are in jail, the bodies of four roll on the sea floor off the hook and two, upon whose heads the law has set a price, are men without a country, but defiant still remain in the illicit trade.

Their places have been taken by others, but their going and the manner of it, took a deal of the daring, a bit of the brazen-do from their old comrades. There is no more wide-open unloading of whisky cases on the small docks in the Shrewsbury river. There is no more daylight tuning up of boats by the runners.

For "Blackie Dan" biggest and boldest of all the smuggling crew is gone, gone down with his boat which they say one night was struck by a one pound shell from a government cutter. And, "Whisky Will" the big Swede whose defiance of the government agents always was outspoken, met a similar fate. His boat capsized in a heavy sea when he was running from a coast guard.

The half dozen now in jail talked too much and were taken one night while returning from the row. "Jim Dandy" the tall slender fellow who used to be "King" and "Agrippa" his aide, used to brag that they would never be chased from the Highlands even by an army of government agents. Yet they were forced out so they had to go or go to jail.

Nobody heard a thing about either of them until several days ago when a white two-sticker sailed to the row and dropped anchor. She had cases of liquor stacked high on her docks, and when some of the Highlanders drew alongside they saw "Jim Dandy" leaving over the side and behind him "Agrippa" bossing the black crew.

MUTILATION OF GLAND VICTIMS GREAT MYSTERY

Commercial Purposes or Revenge May Have Been Motive

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Whether gland thefts for commercial purposes or mutilation for revenge actuated the assailants of two young men, one here and the other at Waukegan, within a period of 24 hours, tonight puzzled Cook and Lake county authorities.

Charles Ream, a taxicab driver, was the victim of one of the attacks in which glands were removed. Earl English, a university student and Ream's cousin, was booked at the detective bureau on a charge of mayhem and perjury as a result of the attack.

The other victim is John Powell of North Chicago who was mutilated but from whom no glands were taken, according to physicians. Powell told doctors that he met two strangers who asked him to take them to an auction sale near Waukegan. He declared he sat down on a haystack and was cut by a bay knife. Doctors, however, said that they believed he had been the victim of an attack but that his assailants had mutilated him and made no effort to remove any glands.

Ream, ignorant of the real nature of his injuries, said in a hospital today that he had been kidnapped by two men in an automobile, chloroformed and taken to a deserted section of the city where he later regained consciousness.

Doctors said that they believed that some one with a thorough knowledge of surgery had performed the operation. Detectives investigating the case declared that a number of university medical students would be questioned and that others besides English would be involved in the affair.

BROADCASTING FROM PLANE IS SUCCESS

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Nov. 22.—Telephone broadcasting from an airplane more than 2,000 feet in the air above Mid-continent in an effort to ascertain the distance possible to make messages heard without practical flying conditions of the air mail service, Pilot Jack Knight flew over North Platte tonight completing a day of remarkable tests.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 22.—Complete success so far as the present facilities afforded marked the initial tryout under service conditions of broadcasting radio telephone messages from an airplane in flight.

From the time Pilot Jack Knight left the ground at North Platte, Nebraska, nearly 300 miles west of Omaha, until he again touched the ground his voice came in clearly and distinctly amplified by a loud speaker in Omaha airport hangar, those in charge of the test declared.

ROADS AND UNIONS BOTH HELD TO BLAME

Chicago, Nov. 22.—In six decisions involving 12 former employees of the Virginian Railway company, the United States railroad labor board tonight blamed both the company and the railroad unions for the dispute which led up to the strike of engineers and firemen on that railroad recently. The board in its decisions did not consider the present strike situation but only the dispute which resulted in the strike.

SPEAKER CLAIMS PROCURERS ARE STILL WORKING

Says Girls Offered Big Wages as Actresses in China

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Procurers of American girls who sell them into slavery in ports of Asia are operating, Colonel Nicholas Korgold told a conference conducted by the Illinois Vigilance association today, in the hotel lobbies of every important city in the country. They deceive the girls, he said, by pretending to recruit them for moving picture work in Asia.

Colonel Korgold was introduced by Dr. Philip Yarrow, chairman of the conference, as the veteran of nineteen wars and insurrections, "a soldier of fortune who fights for women and children."

"In Kansas City," he said, "I confronted a man who had offered a salesgirl earning $15 a week a salary of $250 as an actress for a moving picture company specializing in far eastern pictures and with headquarters in Shanghai and Hankow. I questioned him about these cities. 'I know Shanghai and Hankow better than I know Kansas City,' I said, 'and I know you are a liar.' He turned and ran down stairs, and never came back for his luggage. The girl's brother combed the city for him in vain."

"In China white slavery is not a figure of speech; it is a reality. It is extremely difficult for an enslaved girl to escape."

RESOLUTION AID TO STRESEMANN CHANCES

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—(A. P.)—The gallery approval extended to Chancellor Stresemann at the conclusion of his two hour speech in the reichstag today, which he made a vigorous defense of his administration was considerably more vociferous than the applause contributed by the three middle parties on the floor of the house which now constitute his only tangible parliamentary support.

The Socialists who ended their caucus at nearly 11 o'clock tonight, decided to move in the reichstag the following resolution: "The government has proclaimed a state of emergency in Saxony and Thuringia, although conditions did not warrant such a measure. On the other hand, nothing decisive was done regarding the unconstitutional situation in Bavaria."

"The government therefore, does not enjoy the confidence of the reichstag."

It is considered in parliamentary circles that this resolution considerably improves Chancellor Stresemann's prospects, and it is not thought likely a majority of the deputies will support it.

MORE WITNESSES SAY THEY LAID IN SUPPLY

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Testimony that his application for a liquor withdrawal permit had the signature of Roscoe C. Andrews, former prohibition director of Illinois on it before he signed it himself was given today by Albert Freeman today at the conspiracy trial resulting from the dissolution of the Grommes & Ullrich firm.

Under cross-examination, however, Freeman, who said he received eleven cases of liquor as his share of the assets of the corporation when it was dissolved, admitted that he was not sure that Andrews' name was on the permit.

Half a dozen wealthy businessmen today explained their connection with the liquor corporation. Among them were Robert J. Thorn, former president of Montgomery Ward & Co., and John A. Chapman, LaSalle street broker. Mr. Thorn admitted that he had received 18 cases of the firm's liquor.

BOMB SHATTERS HOME OF STATE'S ATTORNEY

MACOMB, Ill., Nov. 22.—A bomb was exploded in the home of State's Attorney Andrew J. Hainline here late tonight, according to late reports all members of the family escaped injury.

All windows in the house as well as those in surrounding buildings were shattered. The damage has been estimated at $2,000. No clue as to who caused the explosion has been found.

Mr. Hainline would make no statement tonight as to who might be responsible for the bombing.

CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY ALLOWED BY COMMISSION

Washington, Nov. 22.—Fifty one awards totalling $1,592,119.75, in favor of American claims against Germany for losses sustained during the war were announced today by the German-American mixed claims commission. Interest was allowed in the decisions on each case.

GOVERNMENT LOSES MONEY WHEN WOMEN CEASE BUYING FURS

Sec. Hoover Reports Large Amount of Sealskins On Hand

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The United States government is losing substantial sums of money because American women have changed their fashions in furs and are showing less interest in seal skins. Secretary Hoover said today. Moreover, the government has in stock some 2,000 fur pelts which may have to be held for a considerable period before disposing of them. The British, Japanese and Russian governments also, the secretary declared were facing losses as a result of the change in styles.

The government, Mr. Hoover explained has practically a monopoly on seal fur production by reason of its ownership of the Alaskan Islands where the seals have their rookeries.

In recent years, as many as 25,000 or 30,000 sealskins have been taken. This year's take, which was cut down to 12,000 when the depression appeared was put on the market some time ago with skins offered for sale at $30 a piece.

Demand Decreases.
About 2,000 skins were sold and then the demand decreased. The pelts will keep and Mr. Hoover explained that the government had put them in storage. Japan, Great Britain and Russia lose also, because under the treaties controlling the sealing operations, shooting the animals in the open Pacific has been stopped and the government's participation has joined in sharing with the United States profits of the killings on the islands. Since the soviet regime was established in Russia, however, the American government has been deferring payments to that government.

It also looks like a hard winter for the foxes on the Alaskan Islands, in the rearing of which the government has a profitable sideline. Hitherto they have been fed on the meat from the dead seals, have waxed fat and furry from it and have developed coats which are even more valuable than the seal skins.

There isn't anything to be done about it, Mr. Hoover said, except to put the foxes on half rations, stop killing the seals and wait until the sealskins come back in fashion. Orders have been issued to cut the annual seal kill in half again next year.

TWO BREWERIES ARE CLOSED UP FOR YEAR BY FEDERAL JUDGES

Officers of One Company Also Assessed Heavy Fines

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Federal judges today ordered the plant of the Aurora Products & Ice company at Aurora, Illinois and the beer making apparatus of the Garden City Brewing company closed for one year. The injunctions were granted on the request of the government, which alleged violation of the prohibition laws.

Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe who ordered the beer making apparatus of the Garden City Brewing company locked up, also imposed fines totalling $3,500 on the company and four of the company officials. The company was fined $1500 and the following officials were fined $500 each:

A. J. Zahorsky, president; Frank J. Sikyta, vice-president; Joseph Kajick, secretary and Jerome E. Kral, treasurer. Apparatus for the manufacture of root beer at the brewery will be allowed to continue.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson issued the injunction closing the plant of the Aurora Products & Ice company. The company is alleged to have made and sold beer. The government also asked that the plant of the Fox River Beverage & Candy company which leases a portion of the Aurora company's buildings, be closed for a year but the request was denied.

WOMAN IS KILLED IN APARTMENT FIRE

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 23.—One woman was killed and two persons were critically burned in a fire which broke out here shortly after midnight and threatened to destroy a two-story apartment house.

Mrs. Caroline Pell, 75 years old, New Milford, roomer at the house, died of suffocation and burns. Alexander Gair Rockford, and Barbara Gair, his two year old daughter suffered burns which may prove fatal. Gair fled from the burning house with his wife and daughter in his arms. His wife escaped with slight burns.

EXPLODING STEAMSHOVEL CAUSES TWO DEATHS

Stantonsburg, N. C., Nov. 22.—J. E. Lane, fireman, was killed; James Thomas was so badly scalded that he died in a Wilkes hospital, and three other men were painfully scalded when a boiler of a steamshovel on the Norfolk Southern Railroad exploded near here late this afternoon. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

PREDICTS WOMEN OF FUTURE WILL INVADE PULPIT

Will be as Familiar Figure as Country School Teacher

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—Women preachers in time will fill the majority of pulpits in the rural sections, Rev. David D. Forsyth, corresponding secretary of the board of home missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, predicted at a meeting of the board here today. The woman minister in a few years will be as familiar a figure in the country as the present rural school teacher, he said.

"Reports indicate the number of recruits to the ministry is small," Dr. Forsyth declared. "Many ministers find it difficult to continue in the service because of economic conditions. The rural minister has a harder time to support a family now than at any time during the past two decades."

"A woman preacher would be as successful in the country as is her sister, the country school teacher," the speaker declared. "She could live more economically than could a minister with a family."

FORMER PRINCE OF RUSSIA ARRIVES TO BUY BACK PAINTINGS

Valuable Works of Art Supposed to be by Rembrandt

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Prince Felix Youssouppoff of Russia who is reported to have been the leader of a group of noblemen who slew Gregory Rasputin, the Monk, who as confessor of the Czarina, was said to have exerted a considerable influence on the destinies of the empire will arrive tomorrow on the Berengaria. The purpose of his visit, it is reported is to buy back from Joseph Widener, Philadelphia millionaire, owner of the most valuable art collection in the world, two portraits in oil three centuries old which Mr. Widener bought from the Russian nobleman for more than $50,000.

The two paintings, "a portrait of a man" and "a portrait of a woman" are said to be originals from the brush of the Dutch Master, Rembrandt.

The interest which the negotiations will arouse is expected to revive the Rembrandt controversy started recently by Arthur Vanduyke.

SAYS TOO MANY NOW IN GOVERNMENT PAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The American public should regard with extreme concern the large and increasing number of people engaged in the government service, J. H. Tregoe, executive secretary of the National association of Credit Men said in a message to members of the Chicago association of Credit Men today.

"We have before us the danger of the development of a bureaucracy that loses sight of its responsibilities to the public as it endeavors to gather power within itself," he said. "The increasing extent of our bureaucracy is one of the serious dangers to democracy."

CLAIMS DISCOVERY WILL PROLONG LIFE

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Discovery of a method of blood transfusion which not only rejuvenates aged patients submitting themselves to it, but prolongs life, is claimed by Dr. Frederick Heyman, a German consulting surgeon.

The method of transfusion adopted, Dr. Heyman told an interviewer revitalizes the blood of the patient and can be practiced on both sexes. In case where a direct transfusion is not desired a serum may be injected.

Dr. Heyman has acted as consulting surgeon at Breslau and Leoben Universities and it was while holding these posts that he carried out most of his experiments in which striking results are claimed to have been obtained.

BELGIUM TO FORCE PAYMENT BY GERMANY

Brussels, Nov. 22. (A. P.)—The Belgian government not having received a reply to its last demand on the Berlin government for a settlement of the indemnity for the assassination of Lieutenant Graf near Dusseldorf early last year has notified Germany that if the sum due is not paid by Sunday Belgium herself will secure payment in occupied Germany. The necessary orders already have been given to this effect and will be executed if Germany does not comply.

LINCOLN AND HIS GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

At the recent very commendable presentation of the pageant, "The March of the Ages" presented by the history classes of the Jacksonville High School, Friday, November 9, Lee Baldwin gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address. It was one of the most impressive numbers on the program, and was received with a reverential attention by the large audience which at the conclusion was lavish in its applause.

Monday Nov. 19, was the 60th anniversary of this, now immortal, speech, and the following extracts from the Nov. 19 Christian Science Monitor recites a story which is especially interesting in view of the thought expressed contrary to our general acceptance of the story of the famous Gettysburg address:

The story of Abraham Lincoln's visit to Gettysburg 60 years ago today, and the scenes and circumstances surrounding the delivery of his immortal address.

dress were recalled here today when an account written by an observer was brought to light.

Robert G. Harper, editor of The Sentinel and Advertiser, a weekly newspaper published in Gettysburg was the witness whose description is believed to be one of the most authentic available. In his newspaper for Nov. 24, 1863, Mr. Harper devoted nearly the entire edition of four pages to a description of the scenes that accompanied the dedication of the national cemetery.

"The story refutes assertions of some historians that Lincoln's famous address was received without applause. Mr. Harper's account shows a halfdozen occasions when the auditors broke into applause and says "long continued applause" marked the conclusion of the address.

"Several incidents in the narrative several Lincoln's sympathetic nature, the writer declaring tears were evident on Lincoln's cheeks during the prayer of the Rev. Thomas H. Stockton, chaplain of the United States Senate.

"President Lincoln came to Gettysburg by train the day before the ceremonies, the newspaper says, and was received by Judge Willis, his host during his stay here. During the evening crowds assembled about the President's lodgings and cheered and serenaded him. He finally made his appearance and was greeted enthusiastically, although he said only a few words, pleading fatigue. Secretary Seward, however, made an address on the square.

SENSE OF VALUES

Americans are quick to recognize greatness of all kinds—of character, of ability, of men, of industry, of accomplishment. But there is a tendency among us to make such recognition short-lived. Then, characteristic of our nervous nation, we quickly forget and pass on to another instance of greatness—another thrill.

That's why so many people people skyrocket to greatness, in our eyes, and then lapse into the forgotten after a brief flash-in-the-pan period of glory. The nobody of yesterday is the warmly acknowledged idol of today. The idol of today is forgotten tomorrow.

No lasting veneration, as there is with Jews and Chinese. One reason for this is that, as soon as any one becomes "great" our failures and jealous paranoias get out their hammers and begin destroying.

Nationally we are badly in need of an enduring sense of values. That is to say, a sense of values that would be more than temporary snap judgement—a sense of values with perspective, so that greatness could be judged in relation to a long period of time rather than as merely a new act of World Vaudeville.

Our deficient sense of values explains why we so often pick the wrong leaders, embark on long ventures that end disastrously, and why we have needlessness upward and downward rushes of prices.

C OF C DIRECTORS HELD CONFERENCE

The Chamber of Commerce directors met for a weekly conference Thursday night with President R. Y. Rowe presiding. Committee reports were presented on the following subjects: hotel, traffic regulation, industrial development, city plan and gas well development.

Secretary Welch made reports for several committees, all indicating that active work is in progress in the various departments. Some plans for special forum meetings were also presented by Mr. Welch.

At the suggestion of President Rowe at an early meeting of the forum, chairmen of the several standing committees of the Chamber will outline the work in prospect.

It was the opinion of the board that the city council will act wisely in delaying the enforcement of new traffic conditions until such time as the inter city committee now formulating regulations makes report. It is the hope that by joint similar traffic rules may be adopted for all Illinois cities.

School shoes $1.98; work shoes $1.98; dress shoes $4.85. Hopper's.

Richard Vannier was a business caller in the city from Neeleyville Thursday.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

FRACTIONS

BY BERTON BRALEY

THE captain walked the quarter-deck,
A brawny deep-sea rover,
He loved to quaff his half and half
When he was half-seas over.
He'd been a quarter-master once,
But swiftly he had risen
Until the captain's quarters were Indubitably his.

AT school he was a quarter-back
Ere he became a sailor.
His father wanted him to be
A landsman and a tailor;
The boy remarked, "In that career
I'd find no joy at all;
A tailor is one-ninth a man,
A fraction much too small."

AND so he walked the quarter-deck
And sailed across the foam,
While thinking of his better half
Who waited him at home.
But still he kept a half-an-eye
Upon his half-breed crew,
And noted from which quarter came
The wind that blew and blew.

A HALF-MOON glimmered in the sky.
The captain's thoughts were stirred
To dwell upon his new-born son
Who was, it chanced, his third—
I might go on for half a year
About this captain's actions,
But I can't show his whole career,

FARMERS INSTITUTE OPENS AT BLUFFS

Pine Display of Farm Products on View at Lewis Hall—Well Known Speakers Appeared on Program

Bluffs, Nov. 22.—The Scott county Farmers' Institute opened at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Thursday at Lewis hall. The displays of farm products were among the best ever placed on exhibit here. The apples display was especially fine. In the household department canned fruits, vegetables, pickles and jellies out numbered the fancy work department. Several varieties of cake, cookies, candy and etc., were on display. In past years it seemed as though too much time had been spent by the good housewives in preparing beautiful fancy work to the neglect of the more essential branches of house work. The fine display of culinary products shows that the pendulum is beginning to swing back to the more essential. The fancy work on display is very beautiful and shows many hours of careful labor on the part of the makers. The following is the program for Thursday afternoon:

Thursday, 1:30 P. M.

Music—"America."

Music, piano trio—Mesdames Hierman, Stickler, Woodsen.

Invocation—Rev. L. A. Verne Barkley.

Address, "Some Things We May Learn from Pictures"—Mrs. C. B. Chandler.

Her address was very interesting along the line of cultivating a love for the beautiful in art and nature and appreciating the beautiful scenery that is all about us. Especially did she urge that if one had but one picture in the home let it be a work of real art, and to teach the children to distinguish between the beautiful, and the coarse and vulgar that is often displayed on calendars and on the backs of magazines. While many were of the right kind others were not.

She produced copies of several beautiful paintings by modern artists to illustrate her point.

This was followed by an address, "Co-operative Marketing and Business," by A. C. Everling. His talk was to the point and illustrated how by co-operative marketing the tobacco and cotton growers of the south had been able to pool their products and sell in the highest market which has been a great advantage over the old system. The speaker said that if farmers expected to have any say in the setting of prices on their products it would have to be by the co-operative plan as the market price is governed by the law of supply and demand and if the market is over loaded at any particular time prices would tumble and the producers would be the losers. This address was followed by an address, "Economic Position of the Agriculturist, Historically and Philosophically Considered." This talk was based on the changes and progress of modern times as compared with ancient times when the stronger captured the weaker and made slaves of his victims and placed them on farms as chattels often being sold when the land was sold.

Evening

Music—"Swanee River."

Music, piano duet—Misses Vera McCaleb and Ruth Killpatrick.

Invocation—Rev. W. C. Heidenreich.

Address, "The Relation of Art to Industrialism"—Mrs. C. B. Chandler.

Music, vocal solo—Rev. Barkley.

Report of State Fair School—Miss Amelia Rebbe.

Address—"The Making of a Citizen."

Miss Amelia Marie Kolberer is visiting with relatives at Arenzville.

Walter Horrom of Virginia was a Jacksonville caller in the business district Thursday.

KINDERGARTEN WORK IS DEMONSTRATED

David Prince Pupils See Interesting Exhibition of Musical Kindergarten Work at Woman's College.

At the David Prince assembly at 10 o'clock yesterday morning a very unique entertainment was staged for the benefit of the Junior High students. Miss Grimsley, instructor of the Musical Kindergarten of Illinois Woman's College, with her assistant at the piano, brought to the assembly hall the kindergarten pupils and demonstrated the work done at the kindergarten. It was intensely interesting to the students and much appreciated. Miss Grimsley explained that the purpose of the kindergarten is to teach rhythm, and all the exercises were given in illustration of this thought. The children marked time in their games and were able to tell the whole, quarter, half, eighth, sixteenth notes, varying their step in their marches accordingly.

Miss Grimsley explained that the tones from middle C to high C were taught, the class so far having had the three tones, do, re, mi, and each being represented by a color. Red, yellow and blue cards were distributed among the children and one of the children to the step of the music tones of the piano, selected the cards representing the particular tones. It was a very worthy demonstration. Games of Lady-Bug, Lady-Bug, The Little Crooked Man, and others were played each representing home particular phase of rhythm.

Section six of the Junior High school then rehearsed the Library play to be given at the Parent-Teachers' meeting in the Assembly room Friday night, and though the children had not before practiced, the play was very creditable.

Nine parents were present: Mrs. Stanley Davis, Mrs. Carl York, Mrs. Carr Wilkinson, Mrs. Will Hopper, Mrs. John L. Taysman, Mrs. Charles Gibbs, Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, Mrs. W. H. Goebel, Mrs. C. F. Herald, Mrs. Homer Potter and Mrs. W. S. Jones. Friday is to be fathers' visiting day, and the Junior High school is hoping to have a number of fathers visit the school. Fathers' visits count two points instead of one point and are especially in demand at the contest period.

SPECIAL FEATURES AT EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

The Revival meeting at the Central Christian church last night introduced some new features. Prof. W. E. M. Hackleman gave several Hymn Studies in the opening part of the service and the congregation joined heartily in the singing of these hymns shown on the screen. After twenty minutes of devotional study of this character, Mr. Hackleman sang "The Hill Lone and Grey" which was illustrated by some of the most beautiful pictures he has shown during the meeting.

Evangelist Peters spoke on "The Mind of the Master," emphasizing the fact that the philosophy of Christianity is presented in these words, "Think on these things."

"If you would have peace in the world think peace. If you would have love in the world, think love. If you would make Christianity supreme, have the mind of the Master.

"This is the mind of conscious reliance upon the Fatherhood of God. It is the mind of human brotherhood. It is the mind of love as the final factor in human life and world redemption. It is the mind of reverence and prayer. It is the mind of simple living and purity at heart as the natural state of the child of God. It is the mind of faith in the triumphant of right and the establishment of the Kingdom of God, through sacrificial service inspired by love."

Tonight the sermon theme will be "Joy Cometh in the morning." Mr. Hackleman will present Edmund's "Christ and the rich young Ruler."

GREENE COUNTY MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

David Axley in Critical Condition with Revolver Wound in Head—Other News from White Hall

White Hall, Nov. 21.—David Axley is in a critical condition at the home of his sister, Mrs. Byron Close, three miles southeast of White Hall, with a revolver wound in his head. He has been in a bad mental condition for some time, and during the past few days labored under the thoughts of being apprehended by officers. He evidently intended shooting himself thru the temple, but the charge went a little high of the mark. His death, however, seems to be a certainty.

He is 46 years of age, and has a family of a wife and two daughters, the latter being Mrs. Paul Shackleford of White Hall and Mrs. Hazel Spencer of Rock Falls. He is a son of the late Christopher Axley, and the brothers are Albert and Isaac, the former residing at Altoona, and Mrs. Henry Close of White Hall. He is at the present time unconscious. Details are lacking, but it is stated that his version was obtained during a moment of consciousness, he declaring that he was being chased by officers when he shot himself.

Axley left the Close home about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and returned about 9 o'clock in the evening, apparently in a delirious condition, with a bullet wound above his left temple. Neighbors living in the vicinity claim to have heard a shot about 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon, and it is believed that Axley had been wandering about for several hours before he could find his way home. He was still alive at latest reports last night from the Walton hospital, but it was thought he would not survive for many hours longer.

The November session of the Brotherhood at the Presbyterian church was addressed by Prof. Rule of Illinois college, Jacksonville, his subject being New Zealand. He brought first hand information, he being a native of Australia, and handled it in an entertaining and instructive manner. The dinner was spread for 125, and all the plates were filled, including a number of ladies in response to announcement of it being ladies' night. It is understood that no meeting will be held in December, in which event it will be superseded by a dinner by the men's fraternity of the First Baptist church on December 6th, when the gathering will be addressed by Dr. George M. Potter, president of Shurtleff college.

Christmas plans on a community scale have already been launched by the Good Fellows, and the event is to take place Christmas night on Whiteside park. In the event of unfavorable weather it will be transferred to the grade school gymnasium. The program has been tentatively outlined and announced by the secretary, Mrs. Adelaide Purl. It is to be conducted by the ministers, and it is desired to enlist the services of the Music club. There will be a male chorus, children's chorus, female chorus and a big mixed chorus.

A delegation from White Hall attended a banquet in Carrollton Tuesday evening in honor of Chief Justice John M. Farmer of Vandalia. The party included H. O. Tunison, W. L. Winn, J. F. Greer, Louis Lowenstein and H. E. Bell.

The theater party at Carrollton Tuesday afternoon, given by Mrs. Norman L. Jones was attended by Mrs. Norma Bartholomew, Miss Ida Kendall and Mrs. L. L. Seely of White Hall. The latter has been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Peter Achenbach and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Linder of Carrollton.

The Greater Interest in Nature Study

An item taken from a recent newspaper says that there appears to be an increasing interest in wild life, and bases its statement on the statistics that last year 200,000 more persons visited the American Museum of Natural History in New York City than the year before. The total number having visited and studied the great nature exhibits being 1,310,000. And in the Bronx, it is said, 4,000,000 made calls upon the 3,562 inhabitants of the zoological gardens.

One does not have to go to New York to see the trend of nature studies interesting a larger number of people than formerly. Miss Williamson, the librarian of the Jacksonville Public Library reports that the study of nature as shown by the use of books on the subject indicates a material increase in the interest. In 1915, 1,226 books on nature study were taken from the library and in 1922 to 1923, there were 2,516 books of the same class used. She also mentioned that children were asking for books telling of nature. Such wonderful work done by the two Johns, the one from the East, the beloved John Burroughs, and the one from the West, equally loved, John Muir, have contributed much to the world in the writings, simply told, in beautiful clear English, scientifically true, of feathered and fur covered brothers, and perhaps have done more to awaken a deep seated interest in these our nature brothers than any other writers of the day.

Other naturalists there are, who have contributed much to the scientific data, and valuable library contributions, but it is doubtful if any other two have impressed their readers with the love of the bird and animal life about us so that the desire is to study and know more of these interesting forms of life. Mills, also has written much of the animal life of Colorado, particularly of bears.

Of course, one does not forget the wonderful interest awakened in nature study as fostered by the public schools of America. Illinois ranking along with the foremost in that line, and all the Jacksonville schools are making each year splendid and commendable progress in instilling in the mind of the child of love of nature. (The questions well may be asked) Where are the bad boys who rob birds' nests, now? Where are the boys who torture wild defenseless animals? Granted that it may be occasionally done, now, but in former days the per cents were changed around. Our dogs are taken into homes, and loved more often than tin cans are tied to their tails and set loose. Sling shots do not hunt the feathered bits of color flitting thru the blue sky, as in former years.

Years ago it would have been considered a waste of time for women to take morning and afternoon hours and hunt, not with gun, but with book and field glass, the fowl of the air, except those who were making scientific study, with a view to commercialize the information so gained, but now, it is a common thing to find many, many women devoting their time to the study of insects, birds and wild animals that still inhabit the woods and fields about. Great numbers of girls and boys hike with butterfly net and book and field glass and some home from the tired jaunt the better for having had "communion with her saints."

It is an ennobling influence, this study of nature, and a commendable work for all persons of all ages and stations, and it is gratifying that such a large per cent of people in Jacksonville are interested in becoming better acquainted with the life teeming about us.

Bargain Shoes

Any shoe store that does business will accumulate small lots of shoes that are what we may term "left overs" from the previous season.

We have about two hundred pairs of shoes in strap slippers and oxfords that are from 1922.

It is not our policy to sell shoes and represent them as this season's shoes when they are not.

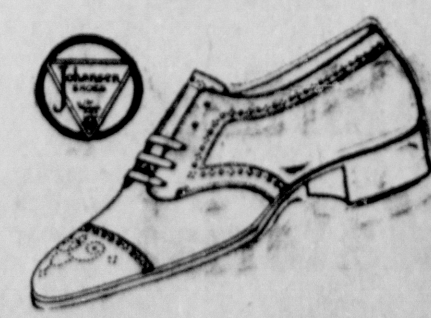

Neither is it our desire to keep these shoes.

Therefore, we have placed these shoes in the rear of our store and are going to clean them out at a sharp sacrifice. We have put a price on these shoes of $1.95 which is but a fraction of their cost.

If you have need for a good pair of shoes in which there is a lot of good service, we advise you to look over this assortment. They are mostly in brown and tan in both oxfords and strap slippers.

CHIMNEY IS MOVED WITH FIRE BURNING

Started Work at Five in Morning and at Nine O'Clock —Entire Job Was Completed Without Delaying Press Room Work.

CHICAGO—Moving a chimney without putting out the fire was a comparative trifle in starting construction of the new Chicago Tribune tower according to Holmes Onderdonk, building manager for the Tribune company. The real achievement he thinks, was tearing off an old foundation and putting in a new one while a connected system of presses 275 feet long, directly above, was kept running, undisturbed either by the excavation and construction beneath or by the jacking up of the entire section of the building in which it stood.

"I told Col. Robert R. McCormick, co-editor of the Tribune," said Mr. Onderdonk, "We have accomplished the impossible. The chain of 25 presses in the present Tribune building, to which the new tower is being added, is so synchronized that it is virtually one press. A deflection of the building to the left or right of a few thousandths of a foot would put the press system out of business, said Mr. Onderdonk. Yet to support the proposed tower a much heavier foundation than originally provided was required beneath the entire west end in which the presses stand.

A frame work was built around the original foundation resting upon solid earth outside the old excavations, and the weight of the building was transferred to this frame work by means of eyebolts thrust through the columns supporting the building. Jackscrews placed under the building forced it clear of the old foundation; the concrete cleared away from the old foundation beams and their steel reinforcement was burned out by the aid of chemicals.

Excavations seventy feet deep then were made and at intervals of 25 feet shafts 112 feet deep, extending to bedrock, were sunk, making room for a 75 foot girder and 112-foot caissons or sunken panels, all of reinforced concrete. Meanwhile the big presses purred on, grinding out reams of dailies.

Should the building settle, even to an infinitesimal extent, the presses would be thrown out of gear, perhaps at a deadline. When the trucks were waiting for the last mail edition. To prevent that, the surveyors have been making readings every two hours for the last three months, and a set number of jackscrews has been assigned to the special charge of a separate workman, who has walked about to see that they were properly tightened. Through the combined vigilance of workman and surveyors, the operation now virtually completed took place without a moment's interruption of the presses, Mr. Onderdonk said.

"The chimney?" asked Mr. Onderdonk. "Oh, that was easy. We simply banked the fire in the boiler at five o'clock in the morning, moved the chimney, slipped in a new breeching already constructed in place of the breeching of different length which led connected boiler and chimney before, and at nine o'clock the job was done and the fire still smouldering."

LOCAL RESIDENT IS WORRIED ABOUT SISTER

Joseph Gaska Cannot Locate Relative Expected from Europe Since July—Red Cross Will Give Aid

Joseph Gaska, now a resident of Jacksonville, came to the United States from Lithuania in the year 1906. He is a naturalized citizen and has prospered during the last decade in this country. Last December he decided that he wished his sister to join him on this side of the ocean and to enjoy some of the opportunities of the New World. Accordingly he bought passage for her on the Holland-America line, and in June he sent it together with sufficient money for all transportation expenses, head tax, detention expenses at the port of embarkation and an extra sum for incidental expenses, to his sister, Burnosea Gaska, whose home was in Pandelo, Lithuania.

He received word soon afterward that his sister would sail for America in July. She was to travel from the state of Kovno, in Lithuania, to Rotterdam, from where she would sail for New York. From New York, she was to travel, under the care of the steamship company in America, to Chicago and her brother was to be notified of her arrival in that place.

Up to the present time he has had no word of her and is greatly worried concerning her welfare. Repeated efforts to get in touch with his family in Lithuania have met with no success. He has appealed to the steamship company for information, but has not been able to learn whether the ticket, of which he kept the number, was ever used or not. Recently he appealed to the local Red Cross office of this city and that organization has asked the assistance of the Traveler's Aid of New York City, in tracing the lost girl. A worker from the Traveler's Aid has, during the past week, been checking passenger lists of Holland-America ships, which docked in New York during the months of July and August.

An appeal also has been made to the immigration office in New York, to find whether or not the girl's passport records are listed there. Possibly this girl was denied admission by the immigration officials, because the immigration limit for her country had already been reached.

Investigation is being made on the theory that if she returned to Lithuania records in New York should reveal that fact. If no trace of Miss Gaska can be found by these methods, the Red Cross in Lithuania will be asked to continue the investigation there.

Miss Olive McDaniel of the Arcadia neighborhood spent the forepart of the week as the guest of Mrs. George Flynn on West North street.

HOLDUP STAGED ON HARD ROAD LAST NIGHT

Owen Butler of Ashland Held Up Early in Evening and Relieved of Watch and $30 in Cash.

A daring holdup occurred on the hard road about six miles east of the city last night shortly before eight o'clock. Owen Butler of Ashland was driving to the city and when he reached a point a short distance east of the Wabash subway he noticed a Ford coupe coming toward him.

When they reached a point almost beneath the track the drivers of the coupe turned their car across the road and demanded that Butler halt. Two masked men stepped from the coupe and at the point of a revolver compelled Butler to hand over his watch and all the money he had with him, which amounted to about $30.

The robbers also took the young man's overcoat, but after each had tried it on and found it too small, returned this part of their loot to their victim.

Butler was unable to give a description of the men who held him up nor was he able to learn the number of their car, as the car was turned in such a way that the lights from his car did not fall upon the license plate.

After the holdup Butler came on to this city and reported the matter to Sheriff Wright. No clue as to the identity of the robbers has been found.

DOES WORTH WHILE WORK WITH BOYS

One of the most noble acts in life is helping some one else to help himself, and recently the story of the work of a Mr. Frank L. Draper of Kilbourne, Illinois, has been told, and while it was not told for publication, the work is too worthy to go unheralded, and appreciation for the efforts of one to help a brother should be passed along while one is living, so the story is told. Mr. Draper has given 16 boys the opportunity for an education, and 12 out of that number are telegraphers, the line of work in which Mr. Draper is engaged. Mr. Draper is a bachelor of middle age, and certainly is doing a noble work. He is quoted as having said that he never lost a cent on a boy. In more recent years he has used the method of carrying insurance on the boys he is sending thru school, thus giving the boy protection as well as himself.

CITY PLANNERS WILL INSTRUCT CITIZENS

Supper and Program to Be Held Tuesday Evening with Prof. Holden as Speaker—New Members on Commission

Several new members have been added to the City Plan Commission, which is now preparing to enter into the practical work of securing a city plan for Jacksonville. The new members are E. M. Henderson, H. C. Caldwell, Dr. Carl E. Black, Charles Blesse, Walter DeShara and Walter Bellatti.

A large group of citizens is to be made intimately acquainted with the work of the commission and what it proposes to do at a supper to be given at Grace church on Tuesday, Nov. 27. Prof. P. G. Holden, head of the extension department of the International Harvester Co., who has assisted in formulating a number of successful city plans, will deliver the address, and will explain the workings of the plan. W. F. Hardy, chairman of the Decatur City plan, will tell briefly how the plan works in that city. The chairman of the Springfield commission will also be present and explain the workings of the proposition there. The following statement from Myron H. West, who is to make the city plan for Jacksonville will give some idea of what is being done in other cities:

An association is being formed in Chicago to further the project for a regional plan, taking in territory from Waukegan on the north, Wheaton on the west and Gary on the southeast.

This plan will attempt to coordinate the various cities plans already prepared in the many cities involved and will provide for the direct lines of intercommunication by street, rapid transit lines, will attempt to provide distinct zones for light and heavy manufacturing, business, etc., and will lay the foundation which will permit the interknitting and filling up of this great territory in an orderly and scientific manner.

At a recent meeting held at the City Club in Chicago the Board of Directors were elected, headed by Dwight Perkins and this meeting was attended by delegates from nearly all the municipalities involved.

The Chicago Regional Zoning Plan is in line with the work that has been carried on for several years around New York, where the bonding of 130 cities into one co-ordinated scheme is rapidly taking form.

The street plan of new Tokyo provides for 12 main avenues centering around the imperial palace and all with a width of from 135 feet to 270 feet.

Building in the business section will be restricted to a height of 100 feet, while structures in the residential section may not be of more than three stories. The majority of the government office buildings, colleges, and universities will be rebuilt in the suburbs.

The park acreage in the city will be doubled, while numerous new canals will facilitate transportation and provide an unfailing water supply for fires.

MILLIKIN AND I. C. TO RESUME ATHLETICS

Will Play Basketball This Season, and May Probably Resume Play in All Lines of College Sport.

Coach W. T. Harmon recently wrote to Coach Rollie Williams of Millikin university requesting basketball games for the coming season and suggesting dates for the same. He also suggested that the baseball and track and also get together on the gridiron in 1924.

Coach Williams has replied that the date suggested for the basketball game here would be satisfactory, and suggested a date for the return game at Decatur. He favored the resumption of athletic relations between the two colleges, and it is probable that competition will be resumed in all branches of sport.

It has been three years since Illinois and Millikin met on the gridiron, and two years since other athletic contests between the two colleges were staged. The resumption of athletic relations between Millikin and Illinois will be good news to fans who have witnessed many exciting contests between their two rivals. Millikin played her first football game after her foundation in 1903 with an Illinois college team, and the schools have met in every form of sport during the intervening years.

The Ladies' Aid of Zion M. E. church will hold a market in the City Hall at Murraville on Tuesday, Nov. 27.

Is Your Weight Right? Look Over This List

Local People Find Help,
Peppen Recommended
as Great Body
Builder

"Statistics show that a startlingly large number of men, women and children are 'under weight.' This is all the more alarming because most people do not consider this condition serious and are taking no steps to improve themselves with the proper nourishment.

"The seriousness of being 'under weight' was disclosed some time ago by the action of the large insurance companies. They investigated the average length of life of people who do not weigh what they should.

As a result people under weight are not considered good insurance 'risks.' It is now necessary that you weigh at least the minimum for your height.

For many people it is a hard matter to gain weight. Peppen however, has proved very successful as a flesh builder. Peppen has increased the weight of thousands.

Many who live right here in this city have told how Peppen has increased their weight. A gain of from eight to ten pounds in three weeks is common.

Many severe cases of stomach, kidney and liver ailments have also been relieved by Peppen. Almost every paper in the country carries the information daily that more people have made public the wonderful improvements shown in their health since taking Peppen.

Peppen is obtainable in Jacksonville only at the Coover Drug Co. It can also be secured at one drug store in each nearly town. "Look for the Peppen Sign."

"ANDY, MIN AND CHESTER
COMING TO THE GRAND

A real melody play in which twenty pretty and bewitching young women aided and abetted by capable comedians, singers and dancers from an important adjunct will be the next offering at the Grand Saturday matinee and night. The production bears the familiar title of "The Gumps," meaning all told, that is based on the extremely popular cartoons of the same name by Sidney Smith. Andy Gump, the head of the Gump clan and family, is a unique, but beloved character. He is one of those chaps who like Babbitt believes that the world only revolves around certain individuals. Andy, however, does not live on tradition. He wants to do things. He has political ambitions and runs for Congress. His efforts to win and prove to his detractors that he is made of the proper stuff provides the basis of one of the smartest and withal merriest musical farces presented here about in many seasons.

WINTER SALADS

A salad always adds zest and interest to a meal and should be included just as often as possible during the winter months.

There are many small economies that can be practiced in this course that do not require any extra time. Nor do they detract from the food value of the dish.

Unless the salad is a lettuce salad, use lettuce only as a garnish. Outside leaves of head lettuce or leaf lettuce cut in shreds will furnish the necessary green at almost no cost. Or parsley, broken in tiny sprigs and dropped over a fish or meat salad adds the needed color without any lettuce. Celery tops, carefully looked over and crisped, take the place of lettuce. Or a fruit salad can be served in an apple or orange cup, doing away with any green except a thin slice of green cherry.

A simple vegetable salad should be served with a hearty meat course. French dressing is preferred to a rich mayonnaise. A plain orange or grape fruit served on romain with a French dressing is ideal with pork roast or rich fish. But a fruit salad swathed in rich dressing topped with whipped cream is a dish should follow light meat course and is in better taste for the luncheon menu than for the dinner.

The vegetable used in the salad should not appear in some other form in another course of the same meal. The same is true of fruit. If apples are an ingredient of the salad an apple pie should not form the dessert.

Asparagus Salad
Put canned asparagus in a large flat strainer. Carefully dip into a big pan of cold water. Care must be taken not to break the heads. Drain and arrange in neat piles on salad plates. A sprig of parsley can be used in place of lettuce for the garnish. Cut narrow strips of pimento and lay across each pile to season to form a band to hold the stalks together. Mash the heads with mayonnaise or if used with beef as a dinner salad, pour over French dressing.

Cheese Salad
One package neufchatel cheese, 2 tablespoons finely chopped nuts, 2 tablespoons minced olives, 2 tablespoons minced pimento, cream, hearts of lettuce, paprika, French dressing.

Work cheese to a smooth paste with cream. Work in nuts, olives and pimento adding cream if necessary. Form into small balls and place in a cold place to chill and become firm. Arrange on hearts of lettuce and sprinkle with paprika. Serve with French dressing.

Lima Bean Salad
One cup canned or cooked lima beans, ¼ cup diced celery, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, French dressing.

Mix beans, celery, onion and pepper with dressing. Arrange in neat mounds on salad plates, sprinkle with grated cheese, top with a dash of paprika, and garnish with celery tops. A well-colored cheese adds to the attractiveness of the salad.

Grapefruit Salad
Two green peppers, 1 cup grapefruit pulp, ½ cup minced celery, slice of onion, 1 tablespoon nut meats.

Cut peppers in halves lengthwise. Remove seeds and white-fiber. Remove pulp from grapefruit and drain. Use the juice in the French dressing instead of lemon juice. Rub the bowl in which the salad is to be mixed with slice of onion. Mix grapefruit, celery and nuts with a French dressing. Fill peppers with mixture and serve with or without a bed of lettuce.

Railway Employees Favor Government Ownership

Referring to the fact that many railway employees favor government ownership because they believe that under that policy there would be better paid, the Railway Age presents facts in an editorial which it claims show that this belief is a "hallucination."

"Most of the railway labor leaders are in favor of government ownership of railways," says the Railway Age. "Many railway employees also are in favor of government ownership—nobody knows just how large a part of them. The employees who favor government ownership believe they would be paid higher wages under that policy, principally because wages were advanced under government control in 1918 and 1919 and have been reduced within the last two years under private operation. A very important fact that many of them apparently forget is that the largest single advance ever made was awarded by the Railroad Labor Board in 1920 and put into effect by the railways under private operation."

"That the belief of many employees that they would be better paid under government than under private operation probably is a hallucination is indicated by the following facts. Prior to the war the wages paid to railway employees in this country were higher than those paid in any country in the world under government ownership. In this country the wages of railway employees are, and have always been, higher than those of government employees. A study of the number and wages of all the government employees in the United States—local, state and federal—which recently was made and published by the National Industrial Conference Board showed that the average wage of these employees is $1,296 a year. The average wage of the railway employees of this country is now $1,643, or almost 27 per cent more than that of government employees."

"Finally, contrary to a belief which seems to exist widely among railway employees, they have been paid higher wages in every year since the railways were returned to private operation than they were under government operation. In 1918 their average was $1,419 and in 1919, $1,485. These were the two years throughout which the railways were operated by the government. In 1920 the average wage of railway employees was $1,820; in 1921, $1,665; in 1922, $1,630; and in 1923, as already stated, it is $1,643."

"Whether the wages being paid to railway employees are too high or too low is a matter of opinion. To the employee who has to meet the cost of living in a large industrial center they may seem too low. To the farmer, who is receiving a price for his wheat not much higher than before the war, they may seem too high. At any rate, they are higher than any wages ever paid by the government of this or any other country to any class of employees, railroad or otherwise."

"There is no mystery, however, about the reason why many railroad employees, in spite of these facts, favor government ownership. They follow the officers of their labor unions, without looking up facts or thinking for themselves, and many of the leaders of their labor unions constantly misrepresent the facts to them."

WHAT DO YOU GET FOR YOUR 3 CENTS?

The Average Reader Does Not Consider the Cost or the Risks in Order that the News May be Furnished Promptly and Accurately.

Quite often the average reader of the daily newspaper does not stop to consider the amount of work and bodily risk necessary to produce some articles of the news. The following article was written by Arthur G. Staples in the Lewistown (Me.) Evening Journal of October 25th and well illustrates the speed required and the dangers often encountered in order that the reader may read his news while it is still news!

You buy a newspaper for a few cents. You carelessly put your hand in your pocket and pay for it. You say "Nothing in it." Or you say "Hello, I see there's an earthquake in Japan."

SOME critic; that you are a judge of affairs. Listen. You read in the Lewistown Journal, for instance, for the first time, that Japan had been stricken—its metropolis wiped out. Do you know what that piece of news cost in life, in effort, in service, to lay before you for your three cents—that you would throw to a beggar?

At 6:20 a. m., Saturday, Sept. 1, the Radio Corporation of America telephoned The Associated Press that Japan had been stricken by a great earthquake. It had happened at noon, Tokyo time. In 20 minutes bulletins were on the wires to all newspapers. This was the first information given to readers in America.

The Japanese earthquake presented some of the most extraordinary and perplexing problems in the bringing of news around the world from Japan to America. At a single stroke, the usual lines of communication across the Pacific from Japan to San Francisco, both cable and wireless, were put out of commission. This compelled an immediate readjustment so that the communication from Japan, hitherto across the Pacific, would now come in the other direction around the world, across Asia, via Singapore, Suez, Gibraltar and London, to New York, known as the Eastern route. Also another outlet across Asia was available, from Japan northward to Siberia, to Moscow-London-New York, known as the Northern route.

The London and New York offices thus became active centers, supplementing the work of San Francisco, in moving the mass of cable matter from Japan and nearby points, giving the first available details of the catastrophe. In this the facilities of Reuters at many vital points in the Far East were combined with those of the AP in bringing forward a large number of cable dispatches direct from Osaka, Kobe, Nagasaki, and other Japanese cities in close touch with the devastated area.

On the first day of the disaster, September 1, nine of these direct dispatches from Japan—eight during the day and one at night—had thus circled the globe westward to London and New York. On the following day, Sunday, the 2d, no less than 28 of these direct dispatches from Osaka and other Japanese and nearby cities came westward via London. On Monday, the 3d, there were 21 such dispatches via London.

Thus, in the first three days of the great disaster, 58 direct dispatches came around the world westward via London, giving extended details direct from the cities in touch with the area of devastation. The Pacific route, even in its crippled condition, was at the same time bringing a large number of direct dispatches from Japan and China points, these rising rapidly to 23 direct dispatches on the 3d. Thus from both directions, from the West and from the East, these messages from the stricken area flowed around the world and into America, giving a steadily increasing picture of the great disaster through its first crucial days.

The route across Asia was in the main the Eastern, via Suez, at the outset. But it soon developed that the Northern route, via Siberia and European Russia, was exceptionally fast. This route was freely used, making about six hours in linking Japan and China with London and New York.

In the first week of the disaster more than one hundred—exactly 141—direct dispatches from the Orient had come by these Asiatic routes to London and New York, over and above the large and constantly increasing number of dispatches coming across the Pacific to San Francisco.

This is what you get for a few cents. A correspondent went 141 miles through hell to get a part of this and altogether it was the combined effort of an entire world of correspondents—all for you. To serve you with the story that perhaps you turn aside for the mere exclamation, "Hello, there's another earthquake in Japan."

THE REFEREE

Horns.

A horn six inches long grew on the head of an old man, 67. It didn't particularly harm him—probably was convenient for preventing his hat blowing off. But as soon as the doctors saw it, they smacked their lips and wanted to operate. They talked the owner into parting with his unique belonging.

The horn is exhibited now before the Australian Medical Congress. The scientific theory is that it is a "throw-back" to reptilian ancestors with horns. Or that the owner lived ahead of his time—more plausible theory since we know plenty of people who could wear horns appropriately.

Tooless.

Our Ladies are well standardized, but nature occasionally gets her patterns mixed. A woman falls dead on the Bowery, New York. Doctors, examining, discover she never had any toes on either foot.

Unique—now. But scientists claim that the wearing of tight shoes is apt to lead to a race of women without toes, or with only one—a big one—on each foot. Nature gives us what we need and takes away anything that isn't needed. She never wastes.

Ruling.

Cities—weakest link in our system of government, as Bryce long ago pointed out—are gradually moving toward efficiency. In our country 314 cities now are operating under the commission manager form of government. Only four have abandoned the system since it was originated 15 years ago.

The old-fashioned politician is inevitably headed for the museum to join the spinning wheel and horse car. We are discovering that government is merely a form of business, a problem in management.

Surgeon.

Dr. H. S. Crossen, writing in Journal of American Medical Association, says he has listed over 200 cases in which a sponge was left in the abdominal cavity after an operation. In one case the surgeon also left a pair of forceps inside the patient.

The remedy, Doc urges, is to use a continuous strip of gauze instead of sponges. In justice to the doctors it must be admitted they don't make any more mistakes in their work than the rest of us in ours. If that's consoling, they're welcome.

Export.

In foreign trade: American exports in October totaled 402 million dollars. This was 31 million more than in October, 1922. The gain apparently reflects prevailing higher prices instead of any actual increase in sales. October exports, however, did exceed imports by 99 million dollars. In the preceding nine months exports exceeded imports by only 37 million dollars. So October was a bang-up good month.

Luxuries.

This'll surprise you. American women spend 150 million dollars a year for hair nets. For scented soaps, the nation's bill is 145 millions a year, for cosmetics 63 millions, for chewing gum 100 millions.

America spends 750 million dollars a year for toilet preparations, including talcum powder, cold cream, rouge, lipsticks. All of which shows many things chief of which is the power of advertising, the mighty force that has done more than any other to make our standard of living the highest in the world.

WILL GIVE FACULTY RECITAL AT COLLEGE OF MUSIC

The third College of Music faculty recital of the 1923-24 series will be given by Miss Beatrice Horsbrough, violinist, and Miss Olga Saplo, pianist, in Music Hall, Monday evening, Nov. 26, at 8:15 o'clock.

Quite an unusual program has been prepared. The beautiful and rarely given, Cesar Franck Sonata for violin and piano will be given in its entirety in commemoration of Cesar Franck's centenary, also three movements of the Mendelssohn Concerto for violin and the great Chopin B. Minor Sonata for the piano.

All who have heard these young artists in their former recitals, will look forward with eager anticipation to their efforts next Monday evening. The complete program will appear in the press later in the week.

Last Practice Day For Blue and White Before Closing Game of Season—Illinois Should Win.

Just one more day of practice on the part of the Illinois College football men in preparation for the first invasion of the local field by the Augustana team. This will be the first time the "Terrible Swedes" have ever been seen in action here.

Last year was the first time the two colleges have ever met in football and Augustana had the better of a cold afternoon play by the scant margin of one point.

According to the Rock Island newspapers the victory of the Augustana team over Eureka last Saturday was accomplished in impressive fashion, although the score was only 10 to 3.

According to the Rock Island newspapers the victory of the Augustana team over Eureka last Saturday was accomplished in impressive fashion, although the score was only 10 to 3.

Outside of the one time when the Illinois defense broke in the Eureka game here two weeks ago and permitted Driver to speed around the end for a touchdown the Eureka team had no real opportunity to score.

The Illinois offense, however, seemed to gather power as the game progressed and in the last quarter came with an irresistible rush which the Eureka boys could not withstand.

It would seem that the Illinois offense on Saturday should be strong enough to hammer out touchdowns. The defense should give the line plunging and off tackle plays of the Augustana team an interesting afternoon.

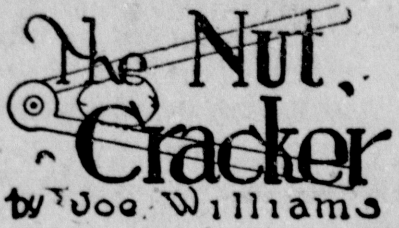

Little ground has been gained consistently thru the Illinois line this season.

NEW BUS TO BE ADDED TO SPRINGFIELD SERVICE

A new 20-passenger bus has recently been ordered by the Jacksonville Bus Line and will be put in operation between this city and Springfield about the first of the year.

The bus is made by the Reo company and is similar to the No. 6 which the company now has in operation.

The business of the company has increased to such an extent that the purchase of the new bus was found necessary.

REAL PRAISE

FRANK SUNDSTROM

"One of the best tackles I have ever coached," is the compliment the usually silent Gil Dobie pays to Frank Sundstrom, one of the greatest forwards Cornell has turned out in years.

Cornellians are positive he should be a unanimous All-America choice.

NO-HIT PITCHER FAILS

Pitcher Charley Robertson, of no-hit fame, who promised so much in 1922 and then "flipped" to a certain extent in 1923, is expected to do much better work for the White Sox under Chance.

Robertson and Kid Gleason couldn't agree that Robertson didn't seem to care.

MANY ENROLLED IN NIGHT SCHOOL

Quincy, Ill.—Night school in Quincy has become so popular that all available space in the high school and one of the grade schools is heavily taxed to take care of the 740 pupils now enrolled.

Registration in the more popular subjects is such that teachers are in some cases compelled to work double periods and the demand for subjects not on the curriculum has been great enough to warrant additions to the regular list of studies.

Principal J. F. Wellmeyer says attendance is more regular than usual.

INDIAN NAMES USED
IN FOOTBALL BATTLES

LAWRENCE, Kans. (AP)—Haskell Indian Institute's football eleven this season embraces 19 tribes, originating in eight states and one territory.

Oklahoma leads with nine representatives on the squad. Others hail from Missouri, California, South Dakota, Montana, Wisconsin, Washington, Kansas and Alaska.

The official line-ups this year do not carry the tribal names. Each member knows them, however, and in the heat of battle they are frequently employed.

Observers say the native call leads a lusty touch in human scrimmage. Some of the Christian names, tribe and Indian names of the squad follow:

J. Levi, captain, Arapaho, Big Buffalo; Carpenter, Sioux, Last Winter; G. Levi, Arapaho, Antelope; Kipp, Blackfeet, Sun Down; Casey, Creek, Running Wolf; Peratrovitch, Thlinglet (Alaska, Eskimo Pie; Sumpter, Choctaw, Turn Bull; Ward, Yakima, Fire Starter; Norton, Hopa, Lost Hare; Smith, Oneida, Kill 'Em Quick; Bikins, Caddo, Rapid Water; Kilbuck, Mamsie, Kill Buck; Hood, Shawnee, White Turkey; Gurnoe, Chippewa, Wrinkle Meat; Hawley, Grosvenore, Horn Weasel; Otopoby, Comanche, Two Hatches; Parnell, Assiniboin, Afraid of His Track; L. Colby, Klamath, Takes the Gun.

DUGAN IS A WONDER

Joe Dugan, by his great work for the Yankees last season and his marvelous showing in the world series, just about earned the right to be classed as the greatest third sacker in the game.

National Leaguers say that "Pie" Traynor of Pittsburgh is his only rival.

Ten Games Scheduled for Home Floor During 1923-24 Season—Season Opens December 22.

White Hall, Nov. 22.—There are fourteen games on the W. H. H. S. basketball schedule for the season of 1923-24, ten of which will be played on the home floor and four on foreign floors.

The best teams obtainable have been booked to tackle the local five and if the Red and Gold warriors come thru the schedule with a majority of victories, they will prove themselves members of an exceptionally good team.

The season opens December 22 when Chesterfield comes to White Hall. The schedule for the season follows:

Dec. 22—Chesterfield at White Hall.
Dec. 28—DeLand at White Hall.
Jan. 4—Jerseyville at Jerseyville.
Jan. 5—Winchester at White Hall.
Jan. 12—Canton at White Hall.
Jan. 19—Jacksonville at White Hall.
Jan. 25—Jerseyville at White Hall.
Jan. 26—Brighton at White Hall.
Feb. 1—Greenfield at White Hall.
Feb. 2—Beardstown at Beardstown.
Feb. 8—Jacksonville at Jacksonville.
Feb. 15—Winchester at Winchester.
Feb. 16—Pittsfield at White Hall.
Feb. 23—Beardstown at White Hall.

The second team has six games booked already and are planning on booking more. The schedule for the second team to date is as follows:

Dec. 22—Rockbridge at White Hall.
Jan. 11—Pearl at White Hall.
Jan. 19—Manchester at White Hall.
Jan. 25—Hillview at White Hall.
Feb. 2—Medora at Medora.
Feb. 16—Rockbridge at Rockbridge.

Nebraska has long been a jinx for Knute Rockne's Notre Dame eleven.

Nebraska's 14 to 7 defeat of Notre Dame was one of the biggest upsets of the present season.

Last year Nebraska turned a similar trick, trimming Notre Dame's hitherto unbeaten team 14 to 6.

Each time Nebraska's strong line outplayed Notre Dame's forwards and upset Rockne's running game.

BE A HUMMER

Charley Clarkson, St. Louis golf professional, says humming a tune will cure your golf ills.

A perfect golf stroke must have harmony in movement, says Clarkson. This is better promoted if harmony exists in the soul.

Go ahead and hum and be a hummer.

BASKETBALL STAR

Third-Baseman Riconda of the Philadelphia Athletics is one of the best basketball players in the country.

He is to receive $5,000 for his winter's work on a crack pro team in the east.

It's a cinch, that is more than Connie Mack paid him for the summer.

Mack says Riconda should be a regular next year.

ARMY-NAVY GAME
IN NEW YORK WILL DRAW LARGE CROWD

NEW YORK NOV. 22.—(AP)

Stirred already this year by an unprecedented number and variety of contests for athletic championships New York's sporting world focussed its attention tonight on the most colorful spectacle of them all—the clash of the Army and Navy eleven for service gridiron laurels at the Polo Grounds Saturday.

More than 65,000 are expected to pack the big stadium for this classic, but contrary to the usual order, probably only a small portion of this throng will represent Gotham fandom.

Fifty eight thousand tickets for the game have been distributed thru the naval and military academies while the remainder printed—7,004—were disposed of by the New York National League Club.

More than a dozen applications for every one of those pasteboards was received by the club and tonight those who had been disappointed were bidding high for the scattered few tickets that speculators held.

J. J. Tierney, secretary of the Giants said every precaution was taken to prevent speculation but efforts were not altogether successful.

Broadway were quoted at $15 to $25 a piece with the demand in excess of supply.

Conquering
Time

THE WORTH of a man is measured by his usefulness.

When many men are grouped to perform a common task for the common good they become an institution.

The same measuring rod applies to the institution as to the individual.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an institution—a big institution.

It is big in size because it renders a big service. Perhaps there is no phase of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service which is more significant or more far-reaching in its benefits to man than the time it furnishes for the conservation of time.

It enables men to do the work of the world easier and in fewer hours.

It speeds up every phase of industry.

The manufacturer can produce more merchandise because Standard Oil products enable him to run his machinery at higher speed.

The farmer can cultivate more land and raise greater crops because Standard Oil products enable him to use power-driven farm machinery.

The doctor can see more patients because Standard Oil products have enabled him to substitute the automobile for the horse.

The salesman can display his wares to twice as many buyers by utilizing Standard Oil products and the automobile.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service lengthens man's three score and ten by increasing his capacity for accomplishment.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the part it has taken in furnishing the means for men to annihilate time and distance through controlled and directed effort.

It is proud of the fact that it has been able to benefit so many industries by taking so many products, varied and useful, from the single base—crude petroleum.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the leadership it has earned in the petroleum industry.

It is proud of its organization of 27,000 men and women through whose loyal, earnest efforts it is able to render such a superior service as to have earned the respect and confidence of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

Produce Review

The butter market opened today with a very firm undertone, and market quotations reflect this condition.
There is a good demand from all sources and fall and winter dairying should prove thoroughly profitable.
Some foreign butter is arriving, but so far the quantity is not large enough to affect market quotations adversely.

There is a very light supply of fresh eggs coming to the markets at this time, and prices for good stock are on a very firm basis.

Storage eggs are moving freely, although wholesale values are generally below cost, plus carrying charges, storage, insurance, and interest, and continued heavy consumption is necessary to clear the present supply before the fresh production increases.

There is every evidence of a large crop of poultry and heavy receipts of both live and dressed poultry confirm this view.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in its report of storage holdings
November 1, shows the following stocks of poultry:

1923.....37,098,000 lbs.
1922.....39,240,000 lbs.

Excess.....6,708,000 lbs.

The wholesale selling prices on both live and dressed stock are noticeably lower than at this time last year.

Total stock sales 1,531,000 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 91.82; net loss .28.
High 1923: 105.38; low
85.76.
Twenty railroads averaged $4.37; net gain .17.
High 1923: 90.51; low

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A sensational break of 20 points in Davison Chemical unsettled today's stock market after an opening period of strength, closing prices showing mixed changes on the day. Standard industrials as a rule showed small net losses while the leading rails developed moderate strength.

The volume of business which ran over 1,500,000 shares, was around the highest of the year.
Opening strength was based on a number of favorable factors including the reaching of full accords by the allied council of ambassadors on the text of the notes to be sent to Germany, Chancellor Stresemann's declaration that efforts would be made to continue negotiations with France, a further reduction in crude oil output, higher refined sugar prices and the 21st consecutive week of carloadings in excess of one million cars.

United States Steel, Baldwin and Studebaker were in supply most of the day, showing slight losses on the day.

American Can the fourth member of the quartet generally recognized as industrial leaders touched a new high on the movement at 103 1/4 and closed nearly 2 points below the top for a net gain of nearly a point on the day.

Another decrease in Crude Oil output reported in the weekly summary of the American Petroleum institute brought some good buying into the oil shares and induced considerable covering in issues previously sold short on rumors of new financing.

Maxwell Motors A was one of the individual strong spots closing 5 1/4 higher at 56 1/4 after having sold a point above that figure.

A four point jump in Big Four which sent it to 115, a new 1923 top was the feature of the railroad list.

New York Central was active and strong in expectation of benefits to be received thru the liquidation of Reading Railroad Rights.

Prices were irregular in the general bond list with a firm under-tone.

Movements generally influenced by individual developments affecting particular issues.

Total bond sales par value $9-005,000.
